IN AND ABOUT LANCASTER.

Call at Edmiston's Kandy Kitchen.

I have home-made candies at Edmiston's Kandy Kitchen.

The best two horse wagon on the market at G. S. Gaines.

I would like to do your plain sewing and dyeing. Mrs. Ophelia Dann.

Ring 95, the Blue Grass Grocery for nice, cheap groceries. Prompt delivery.

G. S. Gaines will not allow any Blue Grass to grow under his feet. Come and see his prices.

Will French Sunday.

Ed. George Gowen writes THE RECORD from New York that he will be home in time to fill his pulpit Sunday morning.

Teachers Examination.

The examination of white teachers for certificates will be held in Superintendent Lusk's office July 15 and 16. The examination of colored teachers will be held in same place on July 22 and 23.

Strayed or Stolen.

About May 13, from my place 5 miles from Lancaster on New Danville pike, one red heifer, (with black stripes) half alderney, about year and a half old. Any information thankfully received. Mrs. Mary A. Sutton, Lancaster, Ky.

The Famous C. & O.

Many Lancaster people took the C. & O. excursions up East. Everyone who goes this elegant line says it is the best they have ever traveled over. The C. & O. will run a number of elegant excursions this summer. Watch THE RECORD for announcements and take a trip which will be worth something to you.

Hustontown Fair.

The Stanford Journal says West End people tell us that preparations are already being made for the Hustontown fair, which will be held three days, commencing August 10. Big premiums will be offered and an attractive program and a good time generally is promised all who attend. The hospitality of the West Enders is proverbial and their latch strings, as usual, hang on the outside. Make arrangements to go.

Sand-baggers are at work in Danville.

Go to J. A. Beazley & Co. for bargains in furniture.

New stock of Paperery paper received this week. J. C. Thompson.

All kinds fancy candies made fresh every day at Edmiston's Kandy Kitchen.

The Old Reliable always on Top in quality and quantity, at the Bottom in Prices. T. CURRY.

In Shape Again.

The Lancaster band, after a Rip Van Winkle nap has pulled together again and will soon begin giving concerts in the Park.

The Colored School.

The trustees of the Lancaster colored school elected Prof. Charles F. Anderson as principal for the ensuing term. Prof. Anderson is a competent teacher and a good man for the place.

Fur to Fly Again.

A petition with the requisite number of signatures has been presented to the County Judge of Madison, calling for an election to be ordered in September on the Local Option question in Richmond.

Wanted.

150,000 bushels of wheat delivered at our warehouse. Highest cash price paid on delivery. Best lump and black Pittsburg coal, 9c. Salt, Lime, Sand, Cement and farming implements. C. C. GLASS & BRO. Camp Nelson, Ky.

Good for the Boys.

Nearly every boy about town has found employment of some kind and 'tis seldom one is seen loafing about the square. Now, if a few men, who lounge about the street and stare at ladies, could be made to 'move on' 't would be a great blessing for our little town.

Back Home.

Jim Wiggle and Theodore Young, the colored boys who have been cooking for the Lancaster soldiers at Chickamauga, came home Saturday. The company having been recruited to 103 men it was decided to detail enlisted men to do the work. Wiggle and Theodore each brought back a good deal of money and a well-developed jaw.

Best binder twine always on hand at Gaines.

25 to 50 per cent saved on the dollar means a good deal to you at the Blue Grass Grocery.

Bourbon Steam Laundry.

Miss Olivia Sweeney is agent for the Bourbon Steam Laundry. Leave your orders at Sweeney's store. tf

Acquitted and Re-Arrested.

Tol Gill was acquitted by Judge Burdick when arraigned last week for stealing. He was immediately re-arrested on a warrant charging him with stealing hogs from Leslie Curtis.

White Teachers Institute.

The White Teachers Institute for Garrard county for the current year, will be held at the Court House in Lancaster, beginning Monday, August 8th and continue five days. Institute instructor, Prof. W. E. Lumley. ELISA J. Lusk, Supt. tf

Honor for Farrar.

Lieutenant John M. Farrar, of the Lancaster company, now at Chickamauga, has been detailed as Judge Advocate of the Second Regiment. This position is one of prominence, and John will have many questions of importance brought before him. Col. Gaither is a man who appreciates aptness and hustle in a man, and we would not be surprised at his landing Farrar in some still more prominent position ere the war is over.

Rev. C. M. Ried Married.

Rev. Chas. M. Ried was married Wednesday to Miss Annie Kelley, of Colorado City, Colorado. The groom has been preaching in that city for some time and has quite a good situation. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Ried, of this city. He has been in the Baptist ministry for a number of years, and is a preacher of much ability. On behalf of many Lancaster friends THE RECORD extends congratulations to the happy pair.

Can Go If They Wish.

Some one told a number of Lancaster drunks that the Government did not want any of their race in this war, and immediately several got very patriotic. For the benefit of these colored men we will say there are several recruiting officers now at work in Kentucky and want all the able-bodied colored men they can get. Lieut. Johnston, of the U. S. Army, is at Richmond this week and, if those desiring to fight, bleed and die will only notify him, he will gladly come to Lancaster, examine and swear the men here and then pay their way to the front.

Andrew R. Pope.

Andrew R. Pope died at his home in Boyle county Sunday evening, in the 61st year of his age. Mr. Pope was widely connected in Garrard county. The Advocate says he was born and reared in Boyle county. In our late war he was a member of Captain R. D. Logan's company, of Col. J. W. Grigsby's regiment of cavalry, and was wounded in a fight at Milton, Tenn. A Minnie ball entering his wrist and coming out at the elbow. He was a Royal Arch Mason and exceedingly fond of the order. The funeral services were held at New Providence Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock, burial in Bellevue cemetery.

The Democratic Convention.

A very large crowd attended the Democratic Convention Saturday afternoon. It met at 2 o'clock, and county chairman, George T. Farris, presided. Nothing outside the usual convention routine was done until the instructions were reached. It was the will of the convention to give the vote of Garrard to Mort Rothwell, but the rub came when the question of a second choice was reached. Mr. Rothwell wanted the delegation to go instructed for him, with no second choice clause tacked on, but some of the McCreary men objected and some little discussion was had. Mr. Rothwell finally withdrew his name altogether and the delegation went instructed to vote for McCreary first, last and all the time. G. Bright Swinebroad was secretary of the convention and Col. John W. Miller chairman of committee on resolutions. Luke Sherrow and Louie Leavell, two former republicans, created much enthusiasm in the convention by 'shaking the scales from their eyes' and coming out full-fledged democrats. A vote of thanks was given Senator Farris for the able manner in which he represented his district in the last legislature.

More Fuss over Toll Gates.

Judge Barnside tells THE RECORD that the thirty days time, for which two guards were appointed at the double gate on Richmond pike having expired, a representative of the road, together with a lawyer came in and wanted the guards retained. The judge said that in order to retain the guards, an affidavit would have to be filed stating that the property was in danger of being destroyed, etc. The parties then left Barnside's office and went to Stanford to see Judge Sautley, upon learning of which, Barnside also went to see the circuit judge. The latter said he would hear all parties interested and set today for them to come back before him.

Advices to Hold.

Mr. T. J. Smith, Sr., in an interview with a Richmond Register reporter recommended that all farmers be advised not to sell their wheat for 60 and 65 cents, as the price is bound to advance. He says there has been a short crop in California and other parts of the West and that, by September, the market will be at least 25 cents higher on the bushel. He says that farmers who haven't the necessary storage room, instead of selling at the low price now offered, should haul their grain to town, where they can get storage for it at 1-3c a bushel per month. He thinks that if this advice is followed Madison county will be at least $25,000 better off financially at the close of the year, as this amount will be kept at home instead of going into the hands of speculators.

Good Purchases.

S. B. White, of Richmond, purchased of J. S. Collins one pair heavy mules for $275, to be used in his coal business, which he will open up in a few days. Also of John W. Baldwin, one pair mules at $225; of T. J. Douglass and Dock Herndon, pair gray mules at $235; of Revanna Harris, one pair at $225; of Patti and Annie Datherage, one pair at $230; of H. Shearer, one mule at $130. Good judges say they are the best lot of mules ever got together by any one man in the State. Following were the horses bought: Of Bud Haden, one bay gelding; of B. B. Million, one saddle mare; of Dill and Berryman, one road mare; of Joel Gentry, one road horse; of Taylor Adams, one Wilkes bay mare; of Louis Lamb, a nice yellow horse; a nice 3-year-old trotter by Emperor Wilkes, out of a mare by Vatica, and a pair gelding said to be a wonder, trotted one half mile in 1:14, on the Fair ground track, also of A. C. Vaughn, a nice road gelding.—Register.

The Colored Teachers Institute for Garrard county, for the current school year, will be held at the Court House in Lancaster, beginning Monday, August 1st, and continue five days. Instructor Wm. D. Thomas. ELISA J. Lusk, Supt. tf

A Fine Crew.

Should the L. & N. decide to run their passenger trains this way, we hope Capt. Paul Price, Engineer Henry Lammers and Expressman Rice, will be retained on a run through Lancaster. These men have been running through here for several years, and by their polite and accommodating manners have made many warm friends all along the line. By strict attention to business, they always are in on time and never have an accident. Our people know their good qualities and hope the L. & N. people will let them stay with us.

A Great Contest.

The biggest, brightest, and best oratorical contest of the season is now being arranged to be given in this city about the middle of next month. The affair will be for the benefit of the Baptist church and is being managed by Miss Julia Reid. The contest is open to any young man of ability and the prize will be a years tuition at any college in Central Kentucky the winner may choose. The exact date of the Contest has not yet been fixed, but will be announced in next issue of THE RECORD.

Did Good Work.

Messrs. J. F. Hines and J. R. Pence, who have been working in this neighborhood for Bird, Dew & Hall, Knoxville Nurserymen, completed their labors Monday and left for Paint Lick. The interest awakened on the subject of planting and caring for fruit trees will do much good and cause more attention to be given this important matter. Messrs. Hines and Pence are clever gentlemen and understand their business. THE RECORD bespeaks for them a good business wherever they go.

Democratic Convention.

The 5th District Democratic Convention met in Danville on Tuesday, to nominate a candidate for Congress. Dr. Ed. Welch, of Nicholasville, was elected temporary chairman, and Messrs. Ed. Booth, of Anderson, and Jas. I. Hamilton, of Lancaster, temporary secretaries. Upon the recommendation of the committee on organization these gentlemen were unanimously elected as permanent officers. The various committees consisted of one delegate to each committee from each county. During the wait for the committees to report, the convention was entertained by speeches from Hon. B. E. Peake, of Oldham, Captain Thoren, of Henry, Hon. W. R. Smith, of Richmond, and other gentlemen, who have "axes to grind."

The committee on resolutions was the first to report, reaffirming allegiance to the Chicago platform, &c. The committee on credentials then reported, seating all delegations, the committee on organization suggested the permanency of the temporary organization, and recommended that the Convention be governed by the laws of the last general assembly, in so far as they are applicable. They reserved their report as to the dropping of the hindmost man until such time as the Convention should demand it. The secretary was then directed to call the roll of counties for candidates. Jessamine was the first, and Mr. J. Willard Mitchell offered the name of Hon. R. A. Crutcher. Pat Sullivan, of Madison, offered the name of James R. McCreary, and Hon. P. Wat Hardin the name of Mr. John B. Thompson. Last came Shelby, and Judge J. C. Beckham, of Spencer, offered the name of "Spencer's own gifted and illustrious son, the Hon. George Gilmore Gibson, of Shelby." Ballotting was begun and the first resulted as follows: McCreary 64; Gibson 51; Thompson 23; Crutcher 14; necessary to a choice 78. No gentleman having received a majority of the ballots, no one was elected. The Convention then adjourned until 8 p. m. At the night session nothing was done further than the taking of three more ballots without result. The Convention then adjourned until eight a. m., Wednesday.

On Wednesday morning the balloting was renewed, and all indications pointed to a dead-lock. Rockcastle's vote returned to McCreary. The vote stood then as on the first ballot, and continued so until the 41st, when a stir was noticeable among the Jessamine delegates. This delegation had been voting solid for Crutcher. The chairman arose and cast seven votes for McCreary, 7 for Gilbert, Mercer then cast her 17 Thompson votes for Gilbert. These would have nominated Gilbert, but Mr. C. C. Fox, of Boyle, arose and changed the Boyle vote, which had been 6 for Gilbert, 6 for Thompson, and cast it solid for Gilbert. The vote then stood 84 for Gilbert, and he was declared the nominee. Then above the wild howling of the enthused assemblage was heard the stentorian voice of Garrard's statesman, George T. Farris, casting Garrard's vote for Gilbert, and moving that the nomination be made unanimous, which was done, and Saxton, as only Saxton can, broke into "Dixie," and the crowd went wild. Amid speech making and the wildest enthusiasm, the greatest Democratic Convention ever held in Central Kentucky adjourned.

The Proctor Knott.

The Proctor Knott cigar is having the run in Lancaster. It holds up better than any five-cent cigar we ever smoked. Try it.

Meets Tonight.

The City Council met Monday night and adjourned until tonight when, we understand, the question of the bank's assets will be discussed.

Murderer Caught.

While at Lexington this week, County Attorney Owsley heard that Wm. McCoy was in Spencer county. McCoy killed old man Whitehead, in Flat Woods, this county, in 1889 and has since been at large. Jailer Ross went to Spencer today to bring McCoy back. His crime was a bloody one.

The L. & N.

An L. & N. Conductor tells THE RECORD business has doubled on the Rowland branch since the changes were made. Another trainman said he heard a high official say there was a strong probability of the company running the day passenger trains, which now go to Lexington, down this way. If some influential citizens would take hold of the matter it might be brought around. There's no use listening to the foggy ideas of a few stumbling blocks. It takes hustle, with a capital H, to get improvements.
